Whole Milk for Healthy Kids Act gains a Senate cosponsor

By SHERRY BUNTING Special for Farmshine

EAST EARL, Pa. – The Whole Milk for Healthy Kids Act, S. 1957, gained another cosponsor this week: Senator Amy Klobuchar, a Democrat from Minnesota, member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and former candidate for President in the 2020 Democratic Primary.

Sen. Klobuchar's support for the Whole Milk for Healthy Kids Act is important as she serves as the chair of the Senate Rules Committee and the Senate Democratic Steering and Outreach Committee as well as on the Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee and Joint Economic Committee.

The Whole Milk for Healthy Kids Act now has 17 sponsors in the U.S. Senate from 13 states, including 12 Republicans, four Democrats and one Independent. Among them are nine of the 23 Senate Agriculture Committee members, including the Nutrition Subcomittee's Chairman, John Fetterman (D-Pa.) and Ranking Member Mike Braun (R-Ind.).

The bill has been referred to the Senate Agriculture Committee, chaired by Sen. Debbie Stabenow (D-Mich.), who on Dec. 14 stated her position on the Senate floor that this issue of whole milk in schools should be left up to the Dietary Guidelines Committee, not the United States Senate.

The trouble with this argument is that the five-year Dietary Guidelines cycles have ignored the science on milkfat. Nina Teicholz, author of the Big Fat Surprise and founder of Nutrition Coalition has exposed the bias in the subcommittee that looked at the saturated fat question in the 2020 DGA cycle. Four had ties to promotion of vegan diets.

It is refreshing to see the truly bipartisan support S. 1957 is garnering, but we need more to get it to the Senate floor for a vote.

When Congressman G.T. Thompson's House bill, H.R. 1147 went to the Education Committee for markup last June and ultimately to the House floor for an overwhelming 330 to 99 passage in December, a little over one-quarter of the full House (157) were signed on as cosponsors. To reach this level in the Senate, at least 8 more cosponsors are needed to get to 25 out of 100 Senators. It would be better yet to get one-third (33).

Another key would be to get more Ag Committee Senators on board and to get all 24 major dairy states uniformly represented (See map, page 13).

All Senators should be contacted by constituents interested in seeing children have the choice of whole and 2% milk at school meals. However, given the need to focus some effort on Ag Committee Senators, here is whom to contact from that Committee to request cosponsorship:

Senate Ag Committee members to thank for their cosponsorship so far, are: Senator, physician and prime sponsor Roger Marshall (R-Kan.), original cosponsors Peter Welch (D-Vt.), Kirsten Gillibrand (D-N.Y.), John Fetterman (D-Pa.), Cindy Hyde-Smith (R-Miss.) and Chuck Grassley (R-Iowa). Additional Ag Committee Senators to thank for signing on are: Senators Amy Klobuchar (D-Minn.), Joni Ernst (R-Iowa), and Mike Braun (R-Ind.) For a complete list of Senate sponsors, and to follow they spend promoting whole milk in one way or another. They don't have capital letters behind their names such as CEO, COO, CFO ... which in the wider circles of the dairy business command 7-figure salaries (or nearly so) plus exorbitant expenses and perks. These people, along with many other like-minded volunteers for 97 MILK, are a team serving several states in the Northeast and beyond. They bring true facts and figures to the public in person as well as through social media and free hand-outs, including

THE WEEKLY DAIRY FARM FAMILY MAGAZINE

There is little margin for error today... so target the transitions!

Transitioning dairy cattle to a trouble-free, productive, high quality lactation is more important than ever as dairies manage milk margin volatility and return on assets at today's higher cost and reduced supply of dairy replacements. With Udder Comfort™ in the fresh-start routine, udders come in soft, ready for milk volumes to reach genetic potential. We have the tools for doing pre- and/or post-fresh groups in parlors or pens.

Here's what herd managers tell us:

"Over a 60-day period, we used the Udder Comfort Backpack Sprayer to apply Udder Comfort in closeup heifer pens. They got it daily for one week, and it was the first time every heifer calved in clean (per CMT) in over three months of muddy conditions."

- 1000 cows, Minn.

"I can't believe anyone is not doing this! More milk, better quality, faster milking, reduced fetching. We love this product and the Backpack, enabling us to spray udders daily in the closeup pen."

-340 cows, 5 robots, Minn.

"Udder Comfort gets udders softer faster for more milk. We saw 3 to 4 lbs more milk at 14 DIM, reduced SCCs and better first-lactation performance in our 2-year-olds." - Indiana heifer grower calving-in over 250 2-year-olds monthly

"Works like a charm! Routine use in fresh groups is convenient and cost-effective."

8000 cows. N.M

"With fresh cows, we see a lot more udder texture at 14 DIM as edema is pulled out. Our fresh cows feel better, up moving around more. They eat. They drink. They make more milk and higher quality milk." - 750 cows, Iowa

"We had zero mastitis in groups receiving prefresh applications of Udder Comfort vs. 10% treated in groups that did not. We observed less irritation and achieved our best milk quality yet." - 700 cows, Pa.

whole milk. And it should be emphatically noted that this all-volunteer group is providing information that USDA and Dairy Management, Inc. (DMI) refuse to accept, promote and distribute. Simply: True Facts about Whole Milk. These people are responsibly correct; not politically correct. They do what is right; not what is USDAapproved, demanded and deceitful. It is thanks to 97 MILK, at least in part (We also wish to give credit to Allied Milk Producers and Nina Teicholz, author of The Bia Fat Surprise) that whole milk consumption has increased in recent years. It is no exaggeration at all that the 97 MILK movement does more good for dairy in a single day than USDA and DMI have done in the past 20 years. Sherry Bunting has been documenting their sinister plots for over six years. The most recent proof of DMI's detrimental policies appeared in an article on last week's front page, titled: Removing Whole Milk from Schools Drove Rapid Decline in Fluid Milk Sales, with the additional notation in red that the Dairy check-off played a huge rule via GENYOUth.

ADC urges signatures to strengthen emergency request

Nearly five years of the 'average of' method has resulted in net losses to farmers of $1.1 billion in Class I revenue alone

GREEN BAY, Wis. – American Dairy Coalition sent a letter to USDA Secretary Tom Vilsack and AMS Dairy Programs Administrator Dana Coale on Wednesday, March 13, urging USDA to grant the American Farm Bureau Federation's official request for an emergency decision to return the Class I skim price formula to the 'higher of.'

The AFBF request was read into the record on the last day of the Federal Milk Marketing Order hearing, Jan. 30, by Farm Bureau economist Danny Munch. Nearly five years of the 'average of' method has resulted in net losses to farmers of $1.1 billion in Class I revenue, alone, which is predicted to exceed $1.6 billion by the end of 2024.

More than 30 state, regional and national dairy organizations, state farm bureaus, and cooperatives as well as nearly 200 individual dairy producers and allied industry service providers have signed on to the American Dairy Coalition letter along with ADC President Walt Moore, a Chester County, Pennsylvania dairy farmer. Signatories cover 33 states from coast to coast.

"This is an emergency," the letter to Vilsack states. "The 2022 Ag Census showed a staggering 40% drop in the number of U.S. dairy farms in five years. The move away from the 'higher of' is contributing to dairy margin losses and negatively impacting dairy farm families and the rural communities that rely on them. As a grassroots producer-led organization, American Dairy Coalition has been engaged in consensus-building on FMMO pricing. We and other undersigned organizations and farmers write in strong support of American Farm Bureau's request for an emergency decision to return the Class I mover to the 'higher of' formula as soon as possible."

While being cross-examined at the FMMO hearing, Munch testified that, "Farmers need a whisper of hope, to see that there will be a positive outcome coming soon, an optimistic change that is coming that fuels them. Do they see things getting better? Or are things going to stay the way they are?"

"The legislative change in the Class I formula was part of the 2018 Farm Bill. It was not vetted through a hearing, so Congress included language to have a hearing and evaluation two years after implementation. Farmers waited four and a half years for a hearing to be set, five months for the proceedings to conclude, and it could be another 18 months before all of the posthearing proceedings are completed," ADC CEO Laurie Fischer observes.

"As Farm Bureau pointed out in various testimony, there is overwhelming consensus for this change back to the 'higher of' among producers across the country,"

Fischer adds.

"(The change) was not revenue neutral as promised," the letter reports. "Losses were not only caused by food box purchases or black swan events, but rather by a formula that shifts risk from processors and creates new lopsided risk for farmers, where there is a 74-cent cap on the potential benefit of the formula, but no limit at all on the losses."

In his testimony during the FMMO hearing, ADC board member Bryan Henrichs, an Illinois dairy farmer, acknowledged appreciation for the USDA Pandemic Market Volatility Assistance Program payments that covered just a fraction of the 2021 losses, and he acknowledged other hearing proposals that attempt to 'adjust the adjuster' to eventually make up the Class I value losses – gradually and later.

However, he explained that disorderly marketing occurs when the 'average of' method puts Class I out of alignment with manufacturing classes, reducing pool revenues, benchmark minimum prices, and ultimately farm milk checks.

"The 'higher of' ensures that the dairy producer is compensated at the time of the sale instead of later by some other form of support. I know some dairy producers that needed that money at that time — not 12 to 18 months later. I know of some that are no longer in business when they received the (PMVAP) payments," Henrichs testified.

"Much has been made of higher net farm income in some of the past few years, but dairy farmers have not enjoyed this prosperity. 2022 was a highwater mark in milk prices, but feed and fuel costs were high as well, reducing farm margin recovery. 2023 was a tough year for dairy farm margins, and if we look at the cumulative erosion of margins from 2015 through 2023, the economic picture is bleak," the letter explains, adding that economists have recently pointed out Federal Order minimum prices are now "the whole deal" and "premiums are gone."

"We look forward to your consideration to grant the AFBF emergency request... to be that 'whisper of hope' that dairy farm families may see a future in the industry we love and have contributed to in the production of wholesome, nutritious, delicious milk and dairy products, as well as our stewardship of land and cattle resources, and of hope for a future for generations of dairy farmers, dairy consumers, and economically healthy rural communities," the American Dairy Coalition letter concludes.

Politics either greases or rusts much in life

By DIETER KRIEG Farmshine Editor

 ${f A}$ s I was washing a delicious sandwich down with a nice, cold and tall glass of whole milk on a recent Wednesday, this by politics. It's surely undeniably true about dairy.

Sitting in on a PMMB meeting in Harrisburg close to 50 years ago, someone made the comment that there's more thought came to mind: Much in life is either greased or rusted politics in a quart of milk than there is in a fifth of whiskey.

While we're not really informed about political overreach in the booze department, we're aware that there was a time when alcoholic beverages were prohibited by law. It was known as Prohibition.

Prohibition is precisely where we are at with whole milk. Not for adults, but for children ... who would benefit the most from whole milk consumption. It's the most nearly perfect nourishment we've been provided by our Creator. Just recognizing that simple fact serves as enough proof for many of us. For those seeking "science-based" evidence, the latest research provides it. But like they say, you can lead a stubborn donkey to the water trough, but you can't make him drink.

It's the same way with stubborn donkeys in Washington. (Plus a couple of stubborn elephants as well.) Truthful, up-todate information about whole milk keeps being delivered. Arden Tewksbury personally delivered boxes and boxes of it for many years.

But by government decree in 2010, whole milk and 2% milk were banned in schools under the National School Lunch Program Act because of completely false evidence and misplaced concern that their consumption led to child obesity, high blood pressure and heart disease. Two years later, in 2012, all but skim milk were prohibited from entering school cafeterias.

President Trump attempted to re-introduce all choices of milk back into the nation's schools but only the 1% variety was approved by Congress. And so, the campaigning to correct a massive and destructive mistake goes on to this day, with Congressman Glenn 'GT' Thompson boldly spearheading the drive in Washington. The House overwhelmingly passed favorable legislation on December 13th with a vote of 330 Yes and 99 No. We owe 'GT' a huge THANK YOU.

Unfortunately, the Whole Milk for Healthy Kids Act has been stalled in the Senate ever since it was layed before the eyes of Senate Leader Debbie Stabenow of Michigan. Politics again.

Politics is always on the table at 2107 Wilson Boulevard, Suite 600, in Arlington, Va., just minutes from Capitol Hill. That address is home base for the dairy industry's self-proclaimed protector of dairy farmers' interests ... the National Milk Producers Federation (NMPF). "The voice of dairy farmers in our nation's capital" they say.

We're not at all convinced that this catchy phrase is true or deserved. Surely, we would not be facing the many challenges and huge losses of dairy farmers had those folks actually been speaking for the people who milk and feed the cows. Politics. Always politics.

We know who is getting the grease and who is getting the rust, don't we? One of those people traveling smoothly to and from Davos and Dubai (among other places) lives not too far east of Farmshine's office, and is given at least $51,000 per year according to a report we've seen recently.

But never mind the money; it's an insignificant amount, compared to what the "top brass" at DMI is raking in. Question, instead, the purpose of the travel. Was she in Davos and Dubai to speak up for dairy or to offer cows as the "sacrificial lambs" of our day?

Comprehensive approach needed for FMMO reform

ARLINGTON, Va. – Its Federal Milk Marketing Order (FMMO) hearing now concluded, USDA is now considering more than 12,000 pages of testimony as it formulates its plan for FMMO modernization. NMPF is still doing what it can to ensure that proposal best reflects the interest of dairy farmers and their cooperatives, two NMPF economists said in a Dairy Defined podcast.

The key to successful modernization is a comprehensive approach that addresses the complexity of federal orders in a way that respects the entire dairy industry while keeping in mind that orders most fundamentally must work for farmers, affirmed Dr. Peter Vitaliano, vice president for Economic Policy and Market Research, and Stephen Cain, senior director for Economic Research and Analysis at NMPF.

"What separates National Milk's proposals from processor groups is more of our holistic approach," Cain said. "You can't look at the federal order system having not been updated in 20 years and not address all facets of the industry, right? You can't say in good faith that Class I differentials need to be updated because costs have gone up without also conceding the fact that make allowances need to go up for the same reason. So we took that holistic approach. That is going to help move the industry forward together."

Cain and Vitaliano also discuss USDA's decision-making timeline, and why July could be the key moment for FMMO modernization. The full podcast is on Apple Podcasts, Spotify and Google Podcasts.

MARYLAND DAIRY SHRINE

Bovine geneticist H. Duane Norman propelled progress

WEST FRIENDSHIP, Md. — Pennsylvania native H. Duane Norman was awarded "Guest of Honor" Distinction at the Maryland Dairy Shrine's awards banquet on Saturday, Feb. 24. He was one of five individuals to receive the recognition, the orners being Billy Heath, Sylvia Keller, Donald Keller and Eugene Long. The latter two joined the honor roll as Pioneers since they have passed.

Duane Norman grew up on Normandell Jersey Farms near Liberty, in Tioga County, Pa. He was the middle child of nine. He participated in church activities, 4-H and FFA, earning his FFA State Keystone Degree. He attended the National 4-H Congress in Chicago twice and was national achievement winner in the National 4-H Awards Program. He also attended National 4-H conferences in Washington D.C. He showed the grand champion Jersey at the Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show for three years.

A 1960 graduate of Liberty Joint High School, Duane went on to earn his B.S. degree in dairy science in 1964 and his master's degree in dairy cattle breeding in 1967. Both from Penn State. He was president of Campus 4-H and was on Penn State's dairy cattle judging team. He earned his Ph.D. in animal breeding from Cornell University in 1970 and was hired that same year as a research geneticist with USDA's Agriculture Research Service in Beltsville Md.

He was research leader of the Animal Improvement Programs Laboratory for 24 years and has authored 170 journal articles and 400 other publications, including a book, and made 400 presentations to industry groups.

Throughout his career, Duane was recognized with numerous awards, including Distinguished Service Awards from the American Jersey Cattle Association (1990), USDA (1991), and the American Dairy Science Association (2011). He also received awards from the Polish Ministry of Agriculture and the World Jersey Cattle Bureau.

Duane served as president of National Dairy Shrine in 2000 and was their Guest of Honor in 2007. He was World Dairy Expo's Industry Person of the Year in 2011. Just one year into his retirement, he was asked to be interim administrator for the Council on Dairy Cattle Breeding (CDCB). He remains with CDCB as technical advisor.

Duane and his wife Roslyn were 4-H organizational leaders for 10 years and he has been a 4-H volunteer for 40 years. He served as secretary (6 years), president (4 years), and director (21 years) for the Maryland Jersey Cattle Club. He is on the Maryland 4-H Foundation Board.

Duane and Roslyn Waring were married in 1974 and have three daughters - Kathryn, Jill, and Diane. They currently enjoy time with their nine grandchildren.

Target practice with teat ends

How did milking go this morning with that target on the teat ends of your cows?

What target? How about your liner that remained open under the teat during the "rest" phase.

Trident@TridentPulsation.com

Yep, that liner was looking right at those teat ends just sucking and destroying. Perhaps it is time for pulsation and a liner that doesn't do that.

Final ESG climate reporting rule takes Scope 3 off the table, for now; Commissioner: 'roadmap for abuse'

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) voted 3-2 on March 6 to approve the final rule on ESG climate disclosures, eliminating Scope 3 greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions from the reporting requirements.

The good news for farmers is that mandatory Scope 3 is off the table -- for now, except in California. The final rule also dialed-back some of the elimination of the Scope 3 requirement, the SEC final rule is nearly 1000 pages long and sets a huge precedent, that even the Commissioner called "a roadmap for abuse" in his dissenting statement.

Milk futures mixed, Class III avg gains nickel, Class IV loses nickel

Milk futures split tracks this week with Class III contracts gaining a dime in some months, and Class IV mostly losing a dime. Current month contract for March was firm for both, and April was up 20 cents for both. The average for the next 12 months of futures contracts March 2024 through February 2025 saw Class III average a nickel higher than the average last week at $17.65, while the 12-month average for Class IV contracts lost a nickel at $20.31. Despite these moves, the divergence of Class IV over III remains $2.50 to $3.75 in every month through yearend.

What's down with cheese?

Cheese futures were up, Class III milk futures gained in the front months, but the daily spot market call -- which is looked at for pricing the cheese that gets surveyed to plug into the FMMO protein price and Class III price -- went the complete and puzzling opposite direction -- bigtime. Barrel cheese markets saw the bottom fall out on a heavier volume of sales, plunging 21 cents per pound to $1.42/lb on Tues., March 12 with 12 loads trading, then gained back a penny Wednesday at $1.43/lb with a single load trading.

The 40 lb block Cheddar market also lost ground, pegged at $1.4350/lb Wednesday, 6 cents lower than a week ago, zero trades Tuesday and Wednesday, but 4 loads moved Monday at $1.46 before the drop. The dry whey spot price gained back 2 of the 3 pennies lost last week, pegged at $1.43/lb Wed., March 13 on bids with no offers and no trades all week.

On the Class IV side, Butter futures were mixed, and the spot butter price on the CME daily market came into the week slower and lower, but gained most of the loss back Wed., March 13 when 3 loads finally traded. Pegged at $2.84/lb, the spot price was a penny short of a week ago.

Grade A nonfat dry milk gained back all of last week's loss, pegged Wed., March 13 at $1.1625/ lb, up 2 1/4 cents from the previous Wednesday with a single load trading. NFDM futures were higher across the board.

Northeast Market Admin. approves Land O'Lakes request to pool dumped milk Mar. 15-Apr. 15

The Northeast Market Administrator for Federal Milk Marketing Order 1 has approved pool handler Land O'Lakes, Inc. (LOL) request for temporary authorization allowing pool handlers to dump surplus milk at a farm or non-plant location, with said milk keeping its pooled producer milk status from March 15 to April 15, 2024, according to a statement available at the FMMO 1 Market Administrator's website.

LOL cited a large customer in the region that has informed suppliers of plant closure for an extended period of time when milk supplies normally increase seasonally. The request cites the potential for impact to not only LOL but other dairy cooperatives in the area as well. Pool handlers Agri-Mark, DFA, Maryland and Virginia, and Upstate Niagara submitted remarks either in support of, or did not oppose, LOL's request.

Handlers and/or producers that utilize this temporary policy must have been pooled on the Northeast Order for all their commercially marketed production for the months of July through November 2023. The milk must be picked up at the farm, measured and sampled for payment, and will be priced at the dumping location.

Dumped milk is priced at the lowest Class price in the pool, which would be Class III -- the market dog at this time. Given that even with stricter pooling / depooling rules in the Northeast, we will likely see depooling of Class II and IV milk in these months due to the extremely wide and persistent Class IV over III divergence that has been with us for months and is expected to continue into the foreseeable future. If II and IV depool and additional milk is dumped as the lowest Class III and Class I is pulled down by the 'average of', we could see more than the normal impact on blend price from such dump-and-pool authorizations over March and April.

Walmart to build 3rd fluid milk bottling plant, this time in Texas

Not five months after Walmart announced in Oct. 2023 a site in Valdosta, Georgia to build its second fluid milk processing plant, the supermarket behemoth announced March 7 the selection of a site in Robinson, Texas to build its third. The Georgia plant is expected to open in 2025, the Texas plant is 2026. The back-to-back announcements have some in the industry wondering if a Northeast site is on a drawing board.

The planned new facility in Texas, will process a variety of milk, including Gallon, Half Gallon, Whole, 2%, 1%, Skim, and 1% Chocolate Milk for Walmart's Great Value and Sam's Club's Member's Mark brands for 750 stores and clubs throughout the South including Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and parts of Arkansas and Mississippi. The Georgia plant will do the same to serve more than 750 Walmart stores and Sam's Clubs in the Southeast.

These announcements come five to six years after Walmart opened its first fluid milk bottling plant in Fort Wayne, Indiana in 2018, which company officials said at the time serves Walmart stores and Sam's Clubs in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky.

The retailer is currently building a case-ready beef facility in Olathe, Kan. after opening its first beef facility in Thomasville, Ga. in 2020 - as it executes its strategy to control more of its own fresh food supply.

Ohio Jersey breeders' convention and sale reported

By SUSAN MYKRANTZ Ohio Correspondent

URBANA, Ohio — Woodruffls VIP Delilah sold for $12,250 to top the fourth Woodruff heifer sale. The September 2023 daughter of River Valley Venus VIP-ET out of DKG Virtuoso Duchess was purchased by Morgan Jerseys of Urbana. The sale was held following the annual meeting of the Ohio Jersey Breeders' Association.

Todd Woodruff told the group he started his heifer sale four years ago as a way to keep his inventory in control. He said they get about 30 heifers per year, but they only have so much barn space to hold their heifers and dry cows, so selling everything born on the farm since the previous sale has worked well for him.

By selling everything, buyers know they aren't holding anything back, according to Woodruff. But there are some older bloodlines his Dad, Max, developed that they want to retain in the herd, so Woodruff said he will occasionally buy back a heifer that went through the sale if the owner wants to sell the animal back once it freshens.

"We are trying to take small dairy farms and figure out a way to make it lucrative," he said. "We want to make it profitable. We want to see genetics leaving here make everyone money.

In other news, John Lemmermen, president of the Ohio Jersey Breeders' Association, told members attending the meeting that the board approved the sale of the office building by auction. The building was cleaned out and the contents were sold online

Erica Davis reported on upcoming shows this year, noting that the 2024 Spring Dairy Expo will be May 27-30 and follow a schedule similar to 2023. All Breed showmanship will be held on Wednesday afternoon, following the ADA pizza party.

The Buckeye Classic will be held Thursday morning beginning at 11. The Jerseys will show Saturday morning, followed by the selection of the supreme champions. Matt Mitchell will judge the Jerseys. Jerseys will be on the grounds during the second session of the Ohio State Fair. Showmanship will be August 1. The junior show will be July 31, with Donna Greiwe as the judge. The open show will be August 1 and 2, with heifers showing on August 1 and cows on August 2. Pat Conroy will be the judge.

John Lemmermen gave an update on activities at Ohio State. The dairy herd has been moved to Wooster while the MALC facility is being built. Plans for the dairy facility should be approved by the end of the month before regulations for the City of Columbus change. The new facility will include two robotic units, a robotic feed pusher, and manure handling system.

Jason Robinson, area representative with U.S. Jersey, reported that 2023 was the fifth highest year in registrations, with Ohio ranking 8th in the number of registrations for the year. The average production for 2023 was 20,710M, 1038F and 738P. Over 227,000 Jersey tags were distributed in 2023.

The AJCA is looking at a proposed redistricting plan to divide the country into three regions with four directors in each region. The plan will be voted on at the annual meeting in June, hosted by New England Jersey breeders.

Alisha Morgan, junior advisor reported on the junior activities. She thanked Meredith Hageman for reigning as the 2023 Ohio Jersey Queen. Jade Laux was crowned as the 2024 Ohio Jersey Queen. They are planning a raffle during Spring Dairy Expo. Prizes for first place animals at Spring Dairy Expo will be cutting boards.

Erin Brown gave an update on projects by the American Dairy Association (ADA), including an E-commerce project with Krogers, encouraging customers to add dairy to their shopping list. The result was $4.9 million in sales and $800,000 sales in lactose free products, she reported. Further, ADA is working with food service and restaurant chains such as Raisin' Caine, and Taco Bell to increase the use of cheese in their products. They are developing a shelf-stable dairy creamer and working with McDonalds which has seen a 3 percent increase in sales. ADA has also entered into a partnership with the Mayo Clinic to research the value of whole fat dairy products in client's diets. The clinic's website includes a tab where health professionals can go for information. Brown said this year, 2800 schools are participating in the ADA's Adopt-A-Cow program.

Animal care workshops slated

HARRISBURG, Pa. – Dairy producers and their employees are invited to one of four animal care workshops that will be held on dairy farms across the state in April. Hosted by the Center for Dairy Excellence, Pennsylvania Beef Council and the Professional Dairy Managers of Pennsylvania (PDMP), the free workshops will focus on hands-on skill-building to help dairy producers meet National FARM compliance. A certificate will be provided at the conclusion of each workshop to show dairy producers' commitment to National FARM and animal care.

A Spanish interpreter will be present at each event, making the workshops ideal for both English and Spanish-speaking employees. Lunch will be provided at each workshop as well.

"Thanks to the large number of dairy farm teams who have attended these animal care workshops over the last two years, we are looking forward to partnering with PDMP and the Pennsylvania Beef Council to offer another series this spring. These workshops qualify as National FARM training, so they are a great opportunity to boost your skills in key animal welfare areas and develop safe and effective protocols for your operation," said Allen Hess, customer relations specialist at the Center for Dairy Excellence.

Four workshops will be held on dairy farms across Pennsylvania from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the following dates:

- Tuesday, April 2 Canon Dairy, Mercer County.
- Tuesday, April 9 Dry Creek Farm, Blair County.
- Tuesday, April 16 Dotterer Dairy, Clinton County.
- Tuesday, April 23 Zahncroft Dairy, Berks County.

During each workshop, attendees will rotate through multiple stations and gain training in several key animal welfare areas, including: calf care, lameness and locomotion, euthanasia and fitness to transport, stockmanship and more.

"Last year I sent our farm's main animal handling employees to this workshop focused on training for the FARM program, or Farmers Assuring Responsible Management. They thanked me for sending them. They came back knowing more about biosecurity, animal welfare and handling, and lots of onfarm activities," said Amy Brickner of Stover Farms in Cumberland County.

To register for one of the free animal care workshops, call 717-346-0849 or visit www.centerfordairyexcellence.org/animal-care. Please include the names of employees who will be attending from your operation.

Sponsorship opportunities are also available. For more information about the events, contact Allen Hess at ahess @centerfordairyexcellence.org or call 717-346-0849.

Ice cream!

"The Pennsylvania Ice Cream Trail is an opportunity to connect your products to enthusiastic ice cream lovers and convert them into loyal customers," says Pennsylvania Agriculture Secretary Russell Redding. "The trail broadens your business exposure to a wider audience throughout the season, bringing in those who are eager not just for great ice cream, but for a connection to the families, farms, and businesses who produce it. We hope you'll grab this opportunity to put the PA Preferred® brand and PA Culinary Trails to work as an asset for your business."

To participate in the 2024 Ice Cream Trail or learn more about the program, contact Emily Barge by March 29. Email her at ebarge@centerfordairyexcellence.org or call 717-788-0300. For more information about the trail, visit www.visitpa.com/trip/scooped-ice-cream-trail.

BOOST COMPONENTS

More pounds of CFP from fewer cows is key to improving sustainability and also equates to more lifetime profit per cow.

LIVE LONGER, LESS HEALTH EVENTS, EASY CALVINGS

Reduce culling, raise fewer replacements and spend less time and money treating sick cows.

RESIST MASTITIS AND IMPROVE MILK QUALITY

Cows with clinical mastitis have 6% higher carbon footprint per unit of milk.

BREED BACK QUICKLY

Improving pregnancy rate from 19% to 25% reduces total herd methane by 10% and increases profit $49 per cow per year.

FEED EFFICIENT

Moderate body size and improved feed efficiency means less food and water per pound of milk.

CONFORMATION

Leverage conformation traits to create balanced and robust cows that are easy to milk, easy to manage and built to last.

ast call for Brown Swiss consignments turns 50 this year and is dedicated to the memory of Ronnie Heffner, a dear friend and driving force behind these years of successful sales.

The 50th anniversary sale will be held on Saturday, April 20, at the Frederick Fairgrounds, starting at 10:30 a.m.

Considered one of the most successful spring sales in the Brown Swiss arena, it is noted for consistently offering outstanding calves. Many have developed into national show quality animals, state and national Bellringers, All-Americans, and profitable additions to herds. Many success stories have come out of this sale with Junior-purchased animals. Quality of pedigrees and top consignments have been the tradition for 50 years.

Brown Swiss breeders from across the region are invited to be a part of this fast approaching historic sale. Now is your chance to consign a heifer. Check those calf pens and pedigrees and see what you can offer.

The sale committee is accepting spring yearling age to anticipated spring heifer calves for consignments - so think March 2023 through March 2024. The committee is looking for a strong group of animals that combine the unique blend of production and type that anyone, from junior buyers of 4-H project animals, to the investment buyer, is looking for. This is a multi-level sale that offers something for everyone.

You are invigted to be a part of this sale with a consignment or two. If you are interested in consigning, or want additional information about the sale, please contact one of the following:

Dairy farmers are under attack by the National Milk Producers Federation. They're now working on a Dairy Environmental Sustainability Program, which is designed to lower greenhouse gas emissions from dairy cattle.

This program is the height of hypocrisy. According to the NMPF website, the U.S. dairy herd only produces 1.3% of the nation's greenhouse gas emissions while the transportation industry produces 28%. According to NMPF, if the U.S. dairy herd was somehow removed it would only lower greenhouse gas emissions by 0.7%.

If you are confused, you are not alone. The NMPF website contains many pages about their different programs, so it's easy to research their ideas.

As dairy farmers, we have survived the FARM program because we had to. Dairy product buyers demanded that we abide

I am afraid that this Dairy Environmental Sustainability Program will add a very costly economic burden on already struggling dairy farmers. I urge each and every one of you to get ahead of this mess and tell your raw milk handler that we, the dairy producers, do not want this mandated on our dairy farm. The raw milk handler needs to make clear to the finished product buyer that they will not mandate this Dairy Environmental Sustainability Program on the dairy farms. The finished product buyer needs to go to the National Milk Producers Federation website so they can see for themselves the hypocrisy.

I am a concerned dairy farmer willing to help you with this Thomas L. Olson Black River Falls, Wis.

Commodity Classic sets all-time attendance record

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Over 11,500 attendees including more than 4600 farmers along with exhibitors, industry stakeholders, and ag media gathered in Houston from February 28 - March 2 for the 2024 Commodity Classic.

The Houston event broke the previous Commodity Classic record of 10,400 attendees, which was held in Orlando in 2023.

"The energy in Houston was unlike anything we've experienced at Commodity Classic," said Brandon Hunnicutt, a Nebraska farmer, NCGA member, and co-chair of the 2024 Commodity Classic. "Our advance registration was about 30% ahead of our record-breaking Orlando show in 2023, so we knew we were going to have a big event for the show's first time in Houston."

Fellow 2024 co-chair Brandon Wipf, a South Dakota farmer and ASA director, echoed Hunnicutt's comments. "It's exciting to see Commodity Classic's attendance grow in recent years. We were expecting a big crowd in Houston, and we're looking forward to bringing the show to Denver for the first time in 2025."

This year's event featured more than 30 educational sessions, two sold-out trade show floors with over 435 exhibitors, a keynote address by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack and EPA Administrator Michael S. Regan, and policy meetings of the sponsoring commodity associations. Attendees enjoyed a wide variety of presentations from top farmers and well-known industry leaders along with tours of popular Houston attractions. Guests also enjoyed closing out the event at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo on Saturday, March 2, with a concert featuring country artist Hardy.

"I still lost cows when I grooved. Agri-Trac came in and changed that! This is real Traction for my cows! I noticed the difference right away! I liked it so much I had them come back and do the rest of my barns! No more grooving for us! Thanks Agri-Trac!"

- Unc Brock, Schaghticoke, NY

"AGRI-TRAC Traction Milling lasts and it won't wear! It works! I believe in it! No more slippery floors! No more grooving every few years! AGRI-TRAC lasts far longer than grooving. No more lame or down cows!" - Jim Akam, Concord Valley Farms, Spartansburg, PA "Agri-Trac works so good after they milled our floors our milk count went up 2lbs per day without changing anything else! You can see the confidence our cows have now when walking and running. No more down cows with grooving! Thank you AGRI-TRAC!" - Ron Deboover,

Vince Deboover Farms, Geneva, NY

"We had slippery floors and lost cows. Now my cows have real traction! This is a game changer for us. Thanks to Agri-Trac now our cows are happy. This is a game Matthew Rohror, Rockingham, VA

"Right after my barn floors were milled we had real Traction for the first time since we started milking cows. I realized a 5lb per cow increase right off. My cows are completely different. I will never groove again! Thank you AGRI-TRAC!"

Derrick Nop, Montgomery, NY

"AGRI-TRACTraction Milling works 100%! I have grooving and it does not work! AGRI-TRAC milled right over my grooving and fixed it! I will stick to AGRI-TRAC in the - Robert Musser, Shippensburg, PA

CDE DAIRY MARKETS & MANAGEMENT UPDATE

All prices — MAR. 13, 2024 — except where noted

January DMC margin is $8.48: February 28, 2024 was the first day miums on changes will revert dairy farms could enroll in the Dairy Margin Coverage (DMC) Program for the 2024 Program Year. You have until April 29, 2024 to enroll at your without any discounts. Lock-in local Farm Service Agency. However, those who enroll early in the process could receive a payment as early as mid-March for their January milk production. That's because the January margin under the DMC Program was announced at $8.48 per hundredweight, up 4 cents from December and 54 cents above year-ago levels, but still $1.02 cents below the $9.50 threshold for the maximum coverage level.

Indemnities were triggered at the $8.50 up to $9.50 margin coverages. The change in January margin was driven by a 54 cents per cwt drop in the total DMC feed cost that surpassed a 50 cents per cwt drop in the U.S. all milk price. Corn price dropped six cents to $4.74 per bushel. This slight drop in corn price represents a $2.14 per ton drop in the corn price to $169.29. Alfalfa hay price dropped a slight $1 per ton to $274. Soybean meal (SBM) accounted for the largest drop, falling $62.20 to $378.40 per ton. Total DMC feed cost was $11.62 per cwt. The January U.S. all milk price was announced as $20.10 per cwt.

The announced January margin results in an indemnity of $1.02 per cwt on 1/12 of enrolled production history. This equates to a January net payment after the 5.7% sequestration fee of about $802 per 1 million pounds of production history enrolled up to the 5-million-pound, Tier 1 cap. The payment to dairy operations that maximize the Tier 1 cap is about $4,008. This payment is guaranteed, even though the enrollment period is currently open, and pays just over half the premium of the maximum $9.50 margin coverage for the coverage year. February margins are currently projected just under the $9.50 level before margins increase in the remainder of the year.

For those who still haven't enrolled, USDA is encouraging you to call ahead to set up an appointment with your local FSA office to minimize wait times. The DMC program remains largely unchanged from 2023, but there are two adjustments. For those who elected for the five-year lock-in contract in 2019, the 25% premium discount will be extended through the 2024 program year. However, producers are not required to remain in the lock-in contract. Changes to original elections can be made, but pre-to the full premium amount contract farms still must visit their FSA office to enroll for 2024 coverage.

The second change involves combining established production history (EPH) and supplemental production history (SPH). If a farm has applied for supplemental dairy margin coverage in a previous year, they can now combine their original EPH and SPH for one adjusted production history (APH). The benefit of this is mainly received by lock-in contract farms. Instead of having to pay the full premium on SPH, they will now receive the discounted premium on their full APH. If actual production in 2019 was greater than EPH, the option still exists to establish SPH which can then combine to create a new APH. SPH is determined by subtracting EPH from 2019 actual production and multiplying the difference by 75%. Triggered indemnities that may occur prior to and during the enrollment period will be retroactive to January 1, 2024.

USDA's Dairy Margin Coverage Program is just one option for those who are looking to protect their operations from price volatility. Another option is the Dairy Revenue Protection Program. While DMC provides margin-based coverage, DRP is a program you can purchase through a crop insurance agent to provide market-based protection against unexpected changes in the milk price. It guarantees a minimum quarterly revenue for up to 100% of quarterly milk production without giving up any upside.

DRP premiums are subsidized by 44% up to 55% depending on the price protection amount chosen by the dairy farmer. Policies are available nearly every day that milk production is traded on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME) with a few exceptions. Policies are available up to 5 months in advance. Currently, policies are available for Quarters 3 – 4 in 2024 and Quarters 1-3 in 2025. DRP is highly customizable and can be made to closely match your milk check. Farms can choose between a Class and a component option. For more information about DRP, contact an approved crop insurance provider. If you are not sure who a local one is in your region, the Center can provide you with a list. Give us a call at 717-346-0849.

Lancaster and Susquehanna County teams top PJHA Dairy Bowl competition

SCRANTON, Pa. — The Pennsylvania Junior Holstein Dairy Bowl Contest was held during the state Holstein convention at the Hilton Scranton with 29 teams competing in two age divisions; 16 in the junior division and 13 in the senior divisions.

In the senior division, the team from Lancaster County made up of Madelynn Hoffman, Jacob Bramm, Alexa Hoffman, and AJ Wanner and coached by Psuche Hoffman, Madison and Tammy Weaver, and Amber and Betsy Pownall won the contest. To win the title, they defeated the team from Centre County made up of Alex Coursen, Kristen Whitehill, Faith Wolfe, and Jordan Anderson. They were coached by Dr. Bob Cloninger.

In the junior division, the A team from Susquehanna County made up of Madison Soden, Aiden Empet, Ian Briechle, and Selah Lewis
